English Department

EN300
English 11 Honors

Adopted 06/2017

Mission Statement

The mission of the Township of Union Public Schools is to build on the foundations of honesty, excellence, integrity, strong family, and community partnerships. We promote a supportive learning environment where every student is challenged, inspired, empowered, and respected as diverse learners. Through cultivation of students' intellectual curiosity, skills and knowledge, our students can achieve academically and socially, and contribute as responsible and productive citizens of our global community.

Philosophy Statement

The Township of Union Public School District, as a societal agency, reflects democratic ideals and concepts through its educational practices. It is the belief of the Board of Education that a primary function of the Township of Union Public School System is to formulate a learning climate conducive to the needs of all students in general, providing therein for individual differences. The school operates as a partner with the home and community.

Course Description

Honors Junior English- American Literature and Culture focuses on the study and analysis of literature, literary history, writing, and research with the purpose of understanding how our present lives have been shaped by great literature of the past. Research and MLA writing skills are strengthened with the goal of preparing college-bound students. Advanced vocabulary is developed. Public speaking skills will also be reinforced.

Unit 1: Writing Freedom (MyP Unit 1)

Unit Summary

This unit explores American freedoms. The skills that students will employ are reading a variety of texts, identifying and using academic and concept vocabulary, writing an argument, conducting research, examining and practicing different writing techniques and strategies, collaborating and communicating with others to reach a common goal.

Essential Questions

What is the meaning of freedom?

READING
Critical Knowledge and Skills	Standards
Accurately cite strong and thorough textual evidence, (e.g., via discussion, written response, etc.), to support analysis of what the text says explicitly as well as inferentially, including determining where the text leaves matters uncertain.	RI.11-12.1
Analyze a complex set of ideas or sequence of events and explain how specific individuals, ideas, or events interact and develop over the course of the text.	RI.11-12.3
Analyze and evaluate the effectiveness of the structure an author uses in his or her exposition or argument, including whether the structure makes points clear, convincing, and engaging.	RI.11-12.5
Determine an author's point of view or purpose in a text in which the rhetoric is particularly effective, analyzing how style and content contribute to the power, persuasiveness or beauty of the text.	RI.11-12.6
Integrate and evaluate multiple sources of information presented in different media or formats (e.g., visually, quantitatively) as well as in words in order to address a	RI.11-12.7

question or solve a problem.
Describe and evaluate the reasoning in seminal U.S. and global texts, including the application of constitutional principles and use of legal reasoning (e.g., in U.S. Supreme Court majority opinions and dissents) and the premises, purposes, and arguments in works of public advocacy (e.g., The Federalist , presidential addresses).	RI.11-12.8
Analyze and reflect on (e.g. practical knowledge, historical/cultural context, and background knowledge) documents of historical and literary significance for their themes, purposes and rhetorical features, including primary source documents relevant to U.S. and/or global history.	RI.11-12.9

Unit Summary

This unit explores individualism. The skills that students will employ are reading a variety of texts, identifying and using academic and concept vocabulary, writing a narrative, conducting research, examining and practicing different writing techniques and strategies, collaborating and communicating with others to reach a common goal.

Essential Questions

What role does individualism play in American society?

READING
Critical Knowledge and Skills	Standards
Cite strong and thorough textual evidence and make relevant connections to support analysis of what the text says explicitly as well as inferences drawn from the text, including determining where the text leaves matters uncertain.	RL.11-12.1
Analyze the impact of the author's choices regarding how to develop and relate elements of a story or drama (e.g., where a story is set, how the action is ordered, how the characters are introduced and developed).	RL.11-12.3
Determine the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in the text, including figurative and connotative meanings; analyze the impact of specific word choices on meaning and tone, including words with multiple meanings or language that is particularly fresh, engaging, or beautiful. (e.g., Shakespeare as well as other authors.)	RL.11-12.4
Analyze how an author's choices concerning how to structure specific parts of a text (e.g., the choice of where to begin or end a story, the choice to provide a comedic or tragic resolution) contribute to its overall structure and meaning as well as its aesthetic impact.	RL.11-12.5

Analyze a case in which grasping a point of view requires distinguishing what is directly stated in a text from what is really meant (e.g., satire, sarcasm, irony, or understatement).	RL.11-12.6
Analyze multiple interpretations of a story, drama, or poem (e.g., recorded or live production of a play or recorded novel or poetry), evaluating how each version interprets the source text. (e.g., Shakespeare and other authors.)	RL.11-12.7
Demonstrate knowledge of and reflect on (e.g. practical knowledge, historical/cultural context, and background knowledge) eighteenth-, nineteenth- and early twentieth-century foundational works of literature, including how two or more texts from the same period treat similar themes or topics.	RL.11-12.9
By the end of grade 11, read and comprehend literature, including stories, dramas, and poems at grade level text-complexity or above with scaffolding as needed.	RL.11-12.10

Unit 4: Facing Our Fears (MyP Unit 5)

Unit Summary

Whether a reaction involves mass hysteria or personal phobias, people respond to overwhelming fear in different ways. Authors through the ages have explored humans' relationships to fear by writing about the things that frighten people the most. This unit has been designed to allow students to explore both a range of stories, both real and fictional, about the power of fear and how people respond to being scared.

Essential Questions

How do we respond when challenged by fear?

Unit 5: Ordinary Lives, Extraordinary Tales (MyP Unit 6)

Unit Summary

Whether it comes from revisiting old memories or facing new challenges, there are many ways that a person's experiences help him understand what it means to be human. Many writers have used short stories to explore different perspectives on life. This unit has been designed to allow a student to explore short stories as a genre and how they can be used as a way to study what it means to be human.

Essential Questions

What do stories reveal about the human condition?
