Dear Mr. Tatum

My name is Sandra Paul and I am a doctoral candidate at American College of Education (ACE) writing to request permission to interview twenty 9th grade English Language Art teachers. This information will be used for my dissertation research related to A Case Study on Artificial Intelligence and augmented/virtual reality type of technologies in the classroom. The purpose of the to understand why teachers' have misconceptions and fears towards integrating artificial intelligence and augmented/virtual reality type of technologies in their instructional process as an assistive tool. The research method is qualitative. This will be a single exploratory case study done to understand why teachers' have misconceptions regarding the use of artificial intelligence and augmented/virtual reality type of technologies in their instructional process.
